LOBSTERS, FRIENDS, SUN AND LOTS OF FUN

The first tradition of the year: terfest. All the students gather ne lawn in front of Sunderland celebrate the return to school. terfest is one of the first things freshman hear about and one of things returning students look ard to the most in the first week hool. It isn't every day college students get to eat lobster and steak on their meal plan.

The freshman are introduced and the returning students welcomed-back during this time. Various clubs are on hand to recruit new members. WKVR handed out free music, Laughing Bush showed off some of their outing equipment, and JIF had a poster showcasing some of the activities they had done in the past. Even the taxidermy club was present. The students took advantage of the various tables and signed up for whichever clubs interested them, usually after asking questions of the club members manning the tables.

Despite the rather warm weather and the humidity, everyone had a great time talking, spending time with old friends, making new friends, signing up for clubs, and eating lobster. Next on the roster: Mountain Day! Story by Laura Krystek and layout by Kate Ceonzo.

THE BIG STORM ON CLOISTER LAWN

As the evening began, students began converging on Cloister patio and the surrounding areas, all hoping to find good seats to witness the carnage. ESSC and security stood by ready to step in at the first sign of trouble, and Cloister residents set the mood with loud rock music blaring from a Cloister room. As the defenders and stormers gathered in their respective areas, the crowd began to buzz with excitement. Some stormers hoped to give themselves an advantage by duct taping their clothes to their bodies and covering themselves in cooking oil and Vaseline. As the freshmen made their first run at the arch a few got close, however none could penetrate the wall of women's rugby players that served as the challenge before capturing the After about half an hour of stor the freshmen finally gave up a mitted defeat. Following the s ing those who had been brave e to participate in this tradition lined up against a cloister wal given their rewards—embarra nicknames, which would pro stick with them throughout thei years at Juniata. Story by Jennifer Sco

FAMILY, FRIENDS, AND OF COURSE MR. JUNIATA

As the first opportunity for many parents to see their students after move-in, Family Weekend was packed with activities for parents, students, and siblings. This year, Family Weekend included a picnic lunch, a play entitled "I Love You, You're Perfect, Now Change," and a Sunday worship service, but it wouldn't have been complete without Friday night's presentation of the fourth annual Mr. Juniata Pageant. Sponsored by Circle K, the proceeds from the tickets were used to help prevent Iodine Deficiency Disease worldwide. Once Rosenberger Auditorium was completely filled, the contestants danced, sang, and showed off their formal wear. The talent competition ranged from a song sang in Spanish by senior Andy Bo a mock fight between fres contestants Ian Palonis and Himmler. In the end, the judges their decision and crowned a sh Ian Palonis Mr. Juniata 2000. Weekend was also an opportun many parents to take their stu off campus for meals. Overall, Weekend was a huge success.

FIRST WE FEASTED...

It is expected that it will be cold in November. It is also possible that high winds and rain may be in the forecast at this time of year. What is generally not expected is that hundreds of college students will leave the warm comforts of their dorm rooms and choose to spend a week sleeping outside in front of Ellis hall. Yet year after year, the Madrigal line is one of the most cherished traditions at Juniata. A combination between an arctic camping trip and a frat party, this year students contended with low temperatures, high winds and downpours of rain which left many waking up in puddles. Tent furnishings ranged from cardboard floors, to space heaters, couches and DVD players. Although there were different degrees of "roughing it" all students could agree that the temperatures and 3AM roll calls it easy to forget the point of Ma line. All the hard work and suf paid off, however on Decembe when everyone dressed up and friends in the beautifully dec Baker Refectory. With Juniata members serving the students a part of singing and signing The T Days of Christmas, ever remembered exactly why the spent a week sleeping out in the

...AND THEN WE DANCED!

As the time of the semester for cramming and major stress approaches, so too does a saving grace: Madrigal. Students use the dinner as a time to enjoy better-than-normal food with friends. After the food has time to settle, the parties begin and lead into a crazy night of dancing with sweethearts and friends. This year's dance, like many before it, was packed with people gettin' down and dirty despite their glam appearance. The DJ began spinning the tunes at 10 p.m. and Baker stayed packed until 1a.m. As things heated up, senior Dan Brady got rid of his shirt and kept right on dancing. "My roommates and I had a lot of fun," re Carrie Wrightson, a junio Saylor, a sophomore "en seeing people look just tha good!" Once again, the Ma dance provided a fun alter to the typical East-parties gave all students the oppor to enjoy the night together.

ALL CLASS NIGHT: ANOTHER HIT

Every year, Juniata students trot out their best impersonations of teachers, mocking of the rules, and parodies of yearly jokes in order to prove that they are the most worthy of winning the All Class Night title. The night is always good for some fun and a special thanks should be given to those faculty members who brave the insults to give a fair and unbiased judging of the competition.

This year the theme of All Class night was "Choose Your Own Adventure". Each class tried to prove that their adventure was more relevant to the Juniata population than the next. Highlights where the juniors who brought a skit of The Wizard of Oz to the Juniata campus and the senior skit following the adventures of students through many perils of Juniata's day to day life with the theme from Scooby Doo.

While all classes had a fine showing, the juniors won the prize and were able to celebrate their victory as a class at post All Class Night parties. Thanks to Audiovisual help, years from now, our children will have a chance to look back on Juniata's 2001 All Class Night and see all the fun shared by students during this worthwhile tradition. *Story by Jennifer Scordato. COLD SNOW, HOT DANCING, & THE ELKS CLUB

Let it not be said that Juniata students cannot find things to do in the middle of a long and cold winter. In mid February students at Juniata got dressed in their finest to spend a Saturday evening downtown dancing, socializing and forgetting about the next week's tests.

The Huntingdon Elks Lodge is kind enough to allow Juniata to rent out its ballroom to throw a party for the students. Since the Elks Lodge is not on campus, alcohol is served to those students who are over 21, so the school also provides bus transportation back and forth to campus. Once they arrived, students were treated to an array of tunes for their dancing pleasures, as well as good times and good friends. After a long night of dancing and socializing, students were bussed back to the Juniata Campus. It was a night of warm memories of friends and fun on a cold night. Senior Brandi Krout said, "it was a great night and a great idea to give students something to do during the month of February. Story by Jennifer Scordato. Layout by Nicole DeSantis.

A DAY AT THE LAKE: PIG ROAST

While it may not be the most dignified tradition at Juniata, Pig Roast is certainly on of the most talked about. Sponsored by the Men's Rugby team, Pig Roast is a day in the spring up at Seven Points at Lake Raystown to spend a day. Alcohol is not the only attraction to this time away from campus, though. The great food, mingling with alumni and classmates and the alumni rugby game are only a few draws to this event.

The Rugby team is very responsible about making sure that every car has a designated driver as well as making sure that only those who are of legal age are allowed to drink. Students come up with their own games at Pig Roast bringing Frisbees, baseballs and anything else that can enhance their time in the outdoors.

The day was chilly and rainy. Th didn't keep students away, howeve as the campus was practicall deserted. Even Alumni who were c campus for other events, made a poi of finding time in their day to stop u to Raystown to visit friends. Whe all was said and done, the event wa carried off neatly, responsibly an with lots of fun. Story by Jennifer Scorda

LET'S START OFF THE WEEKEND WITH MUD...

Put on your worst clothing and write a team name on your body and you are set for an afternoon in the mud! Ben Cole, Shawn Reed, Jason Stouffer, Josh Seiders, Josh Chubb, Scott Baker, Kevin DeCarlo, and Josh Tkacik gather before they head for the pit. Photograph by Nicole DeSantis

Mud Volleyball may not be for everyone, but you will always find students, faculty and staff watching from the sidelines, such as Economics and Business professor Michael Frandsen. Photograph by Nicole DeSantis.

People may ask, "what drives an otherwise intelligent student to get dressed in their most useless clothes and dive into a pit full of mud?". At Juniata, there is only one answer—MUD VOLLEYBALL! As tradition goes, students frequently send home for clothing that they will never want to wear again, write a team name or other saying on their jerseys or some part of their bodies and unleash an entire year's frustrations on whoever is unfortunate enough to be in throwing distance of the mud pit.

The event is not fun only for the participants, however. The spectators have a good time watching, preferably from a safe distance. There is just something about seeing your fellow students rolling around in a mud pit that draws students out in large numbers. Juniata's own WKVR provided background music for the event and since it was held next to Ellis this year.

After each group finished, they moved to the hose off area to get cleaned up. Most couldn't resist hugging a few friends along the way. Mud Volleyball is clearly not an event for everyone. At the end of the day, though, the muddy footprints which are left around campus for weeks to come serve as a visual testament to the fun of Mud Volleyball. *Story by Jennifer Scordato. The Women's Basketball team show their mucked up bodies after a match in the mud pit. After all the fun is done the teams head up to the wash-off station, which was located on the newly paved basketball courts near Ellis. Little would we know that the muddy footprints would stick around weeks after the event. Photograph by Nicole DeSantis.

The most unfortunate thing about Mud Volleyball is getting thrown in when you are clean and dry. Nate Leach and Scott Baker take a clean freshman and head right towards the pit! Photograph by Nicole DeSantis.

... & FINISH THE WEEKEND WITH A CARNIVAL!

No one can say that Juniata does not take care of it's students. Like Lobsterfest in the fall, Springfest is provided as a sort of blow off period for students as they near the end of another long year. As usual, the weather cooperated this year giving a gorgeous day to lure students away from their books and out into the fresh air to enjoy some time with friends.

Some students bring Frisbees, some only bring blankets, but at approximately noon on Saturday of Springfest weekend, students converge on North Lawn for a day of fun in the sun. Lunch is served by Sodexho Marriott and clubs and organizations set up tables around the paths giving all sorts of fun activities for the students to participate in. There are ring tosses, tye-dyes and old time photos all sponsored by different organizations on campus. This serves as a great way for clubs to get some funds for their activities.

In the evening, dinner is served once again on North Lawn. This year Sodexho Marriott served up an array of tasty treats from steak to chicken as well as fresh corn on the cob and a selection of pies. Later in the evening, students are usually treated to a movie showing on Oller Lawn however, this year, the location had to be moved to Brumbaugh Auditorium on account of weather predictions. Overall, Springfest gives students a day of fun before buckling down for the last push of finals. Story by J. Scordato. Layout by N. DeSantis.

A DAY TO CELEBRATE WONDERFUL WOMEN

May Day was held during the Women's Celebration weekend. Many students, faculty, alumni and guests gathered to celebrate the achievements of women both past and present.

The breakfast offers students a chance to mingling with faculty and alumni and learn about their achievements and struggles, especially women. This year, the May Day Breakfast was particularly important, as the Women's Celebration took a look at a long tradition of women's contributions at Juniata.

An Honorary Degree was given out to Elma Stine Heckler, class of 1950, for the Doctorate of Human Letters. Professor Russell K. Shelley and trustee member, John Mc.N. Cramer introduced Elma during the breakfast. Unfortunately, Mrs. Heckler passed away shortly after receiving the degree, on June 20th.

Following the speaker, awards were given out to honor women from each class at Juniata who had given service to others and had remarkable achievements. Senior Parisha Shah received the Senior Women of the Year award.

This important and honored tradition will certainly be held long into the future as Juniata women continue to make important contributions to our school, our society, and our world. Story and layout by Nicole DeSantis.

FOOTBALL

The 2000 football season had its highlights in a frustrating season. With the exciting Matthew Eisenberg pulling in unbelievable catches to the furry of Dan Brady, Kyle Rovi, and Jeremy Patterson punishing the opponent's quarterbacks. Ed Pfursich lead the defense by putting offense opponents on their backs consistently every game.

The offense came to life in the second half of the season with the aerial attack led by junior quarterback Jamie Campbell. Sophomore, Nate Leach stated, "for our offense to click, everyone had to do their part, and it showed as we put up big numbers throughout the year."

Many freshmen stepped up and fulfilled the challenges they were faced with at the collegiate level. The fan's had nothing to complain about with seven of the ten games being won by less than a touchdown.

It was a memorable season that all of the players and fans will not soon forget. Everyone will remember the game verses Moravian when Juniata made the ESPN clip of the week when a Moravian receiver was knocked out by the field goal post.

Eisenberg spoke for the whole team saying, "it was a tough season with each week being a battle to the end, but our team showed great character and heart throughout every battle never giving up." Story by Jason Stouffer. Layout by Jason Stouffer and Kirsten Crosby.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

With a record of 4-12, 1-6 Commonwealth Conference, the women's soccer team played some exciting games this season, such as the Juniata vs. Dickinson game. The women battled right down to the very last second. Even though they lost, it was still a well-played and exciting game.

The women had some improvements from last year. "This year we had great team spirit and new coaches, and our offense improved some from last season," Marybeth Markiewicz said. She also says that they would like to work on the offense and strengthen out the defense for next season.

The team is happy to report that this season there were no major injuries or holdbacks. Some of the key players that will be missed next season due to either graduation or studying abroad will be April Schneider and Marybeth Markiewicz. There will be a couple of key players returning, though. They are Megan McElroy and Jen LaCount.

There were many funny and memorable moments for the team. Heather Plank remembers, "...We had to carry around a Babe Pig lunch box (little pink thing). We carried this around every time we had a 'oopsy' in the game, and you would carry this around until the next game."

Three coaches headed this soccer team this season. Markiewicz said, "...they couldn't have been better, they were very helpful and positive as well as being motivational." Markiewicz believes that with the team this season being young, seasons to come will bring a great soccer team full of team spirit. Story by Jen Bowen. Layout by Nicole DeSantis.

MEN'S SOCCER

The Men's Soccer team started the season off with some major adjustments. They gained a new head coach, Scott McKenzie, and unfortunately loss some key seniors. Although with the loss of these seniors, there was also the gain of many talented new freshmen. While everyone was getting adjusted, the team was also getting reaquainted, for the second year, to the Winton Hill Field.

The season had its ups and downs. The team was led by team captains, Todd Fabian, Jorn Vermehren, and Ben Webster. Also calling the plays were first year goalkeepers, junior Chris Zimmerman and freshman Jon Hruska. Zimmerman completed the season with 125 saves, while Hruska helped with 33 saves. Other impressive stats came from sophomore Nick Wolfe hitting ten goals for the season and Fabian assisting with five total goals. Juniors Joel Abe and Matt Betting both had their share of facing the opposing goalkeeper.

With a 5-13 record, the team worked hard to get adjusted with many new changes. It may have been a rebuilding year for the soccer team, but every team goes through these seasons. The team faced two games that ended in overtime, unfortunately the Eagles ended up short in both games. The Eagles will lose Todd Fabian, Jorn Vermehren, T.J. Cotter, Khaled El-Zahhar, and Ben Webster to graduation.

Coach McKenzie was incharge of both Women's and Men's soccer teams and manged his time well between the two teams. The team agreed that Coach McKenzie was a great addition to the team and brought in a number of new ideas for the Eagles. Story and layout by Nicole DeSantis.

FIELD HOCKEY

Despite the set back of Megan Wagaman, who broke her foot, the Women's Field Hockey team ended the season with a record of 7 - 12, 2 - 5 in the Commonwealth Conference. Junior Jen Thew (1st Team All MAC), senior Jeanean Chiusano (2nd Team All MAC), sophomore Liz Allard (2nd Team All MAC), and freshman Jean Silvey (Rookie of the Year-MAC) were the key players for the Eagles. Next year, the team will be missing three players due to graduation. They include Megan Wagaman, Jeanean Chiusano, and Kathy McCann.

By far, the most exciting game, and one of the most rewarding moments, that was played this season was Juniata versus Indiana University of Pennsylvania. This was senior day and also a day for all to remember. Juniata was the underdogs of the game and played the game with intense strategies. Then at the end of the game the Eagles won by the score of 1 - 0. It was a great finish on the home field, on Winton Hill. This was the first year that the Field Hockey team was able to play on the newly built field.

During the off-season, the team lifts weights in the gym and they also play several indoor and outdoor tournaments. This year the Eagles even hosted their own indoor tournament in the gym. The team improved on their communication and teamwork skills this season. When asked what they would like to improve for the next year, they replied, "we would like to see more goals scored."

Everyone seemed happy with the coaches this season. Senior Kathy McCann said, "As a team, the three coaches complemented each other perfectly." Jean Silvey added, "They have taught me so much... they are wonderful!"

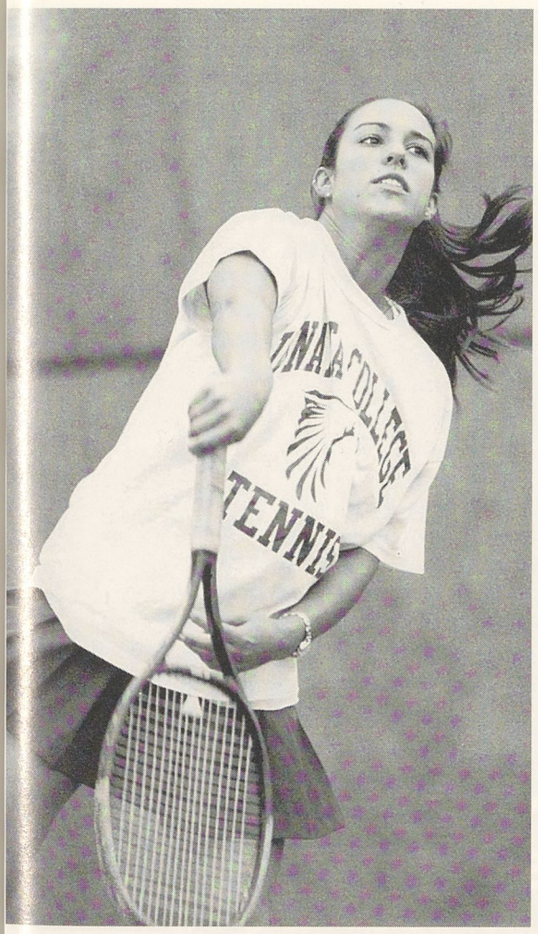
TENNIS/ X-COUNTRY



Led by captains Lisa Dumansky and Victoria Hilosky, the women's tennis team had a record setting season in the fall of 2000. Led by Dumansky, Hilosky, and sophomores Liz Osche and Alex Thompson, they ended their season with a 6-4 record. Although they lost Erica Sussman ('00), the girls acquired a number of new freshmen players, and are looking forward to continued improvement. "We need to work on strategy, and our mental games more," Dumansky commented.

Whether spending the evening after a tournament in Hershey Park, bonding during the bus rides, or watching Melanie Simmons cheer her teammates on in her bat hat, the girls definitely had a rewarding season. And even after the regular season ends, the girls still keep busy. "We played a few times at an indoor facility in Altoona, which was helpful," said Dumansky. The girls ended their season with a bang when Dumansky and Osche won the MAC doubles championship. Dumansky was also named to the 2000 MAC All-Star Team. "Ann and John are both GREAT coaches. They make us practice hard, but they also bring a lot of spirit and fun to the practices, and they are really supportive of the team." ~Debby Mensch

One of the smallest teams on campus made great strides (ha ha) this year, by more than doubling their participation. The male cross-country team, led by Scott Hobbie and Noah Fredette. Unfortunately, Fredette left Juniata halfway through the season, but the men still ran strongly, and had a rewarding season. "I think the most exciting meet of the season was the MAC meet at Allentown. Everyone ran well and a number of personal bests were set," Hobbie said. Hobbie will be the only runner graduating this year, but he has high hopes for next year's team. "I'd like to see there be a consistent number of runners who run and practice hard and have fun," he commented. "Coach Cutright is an excellent coach, and I'll miss him a lot when I graduate." ~Scott Hobbie. Story by Kate Ceonzo. Layout by N. DeSantis.

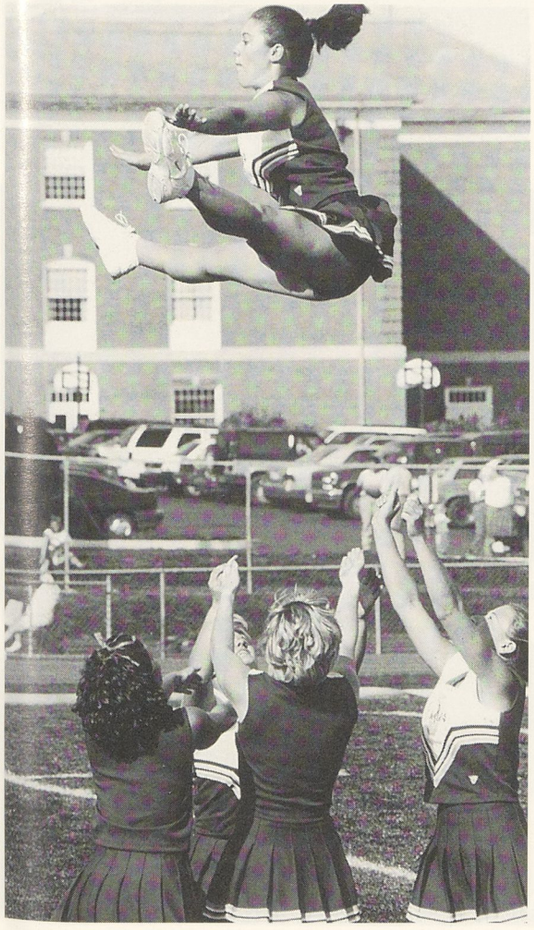
CHEERLEADING



Around campus if you ask students how the cheerleading squad was a few years back, many responses would be "they were terrible." However if you ask how the cheerleaders are now, I bet the responses would be the complete opposite.

As of August 2000, the cheerleaders gained a new coach, Kim Guyer, who cheered for many years and graduated from Susquehanna University. She took the whole squad under her wing and transformed them into a TEAM.

Kim organized a "Cheerleading Camp" before the semester started to prepare for the upcoming season. At this camp, the girls learned many dances, cheers, but most of all, stunts. "Stunts are what make cheerleading the best." The cheerleaders spent many hours in hot weather working on stunts that were performed at football/basketball games.

Senior Dana Paccone succeeds in a stunt when the team hoists her in the air. Cheerleading is all about spirit and trust in your teammates. Photography by DaVor Photography.

The performance at Lip Sync is what got the cheerleaders repetition soaring high again. Their halftime performance got the crowd pumped and wanting more. They were even invited to perform at the Midnight Madness event to introduce basketball season. The cheerleaders are slowly getting the credit they deserve.

Cheerleading is a very rough sport, and has many injuries. Cheerleading is about working together as a team and trusting everyone you work with. Once the trust is lost between teammates, the squad falls apart. Because of our coach, she makes the squad come together as one, and keeps us pushing to the top.

So in years to come, responses about the cheerleaders will be positive. They are a bunch of girls who have worked hard to get where the are. Their stunts are amazing and the squad looks great. For many years they have always fought for recognition as a Varsity Sport. Finally their dream has come true. Just look at their website on the varsity sport page for Juniata College. There are smiles all around!!! Story by Michelle DeLaFuente. Layout by Nicole DeSantis.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

The 2000-2001 Women's Volleyball Team began the season facing a number of obstacles. To begin, the squad had graduated four seniors, three of whom were All-Americans. In addition to this, the team welcomed eleven new freshman, prompting many to call this a "rebuilding" year.

Yet despite predictions, the Juniata Women's Volleyball Team focused on the task at hand and continued the tradition of winning seasons. Capturing the MAC title was the first step in a series of goals to accomplish. After that the world-wind of post season began. First, the NCAA Regional Match, then Quarter-finals, then the Final Four. Held in Pella, Iowa. It was a mixed bag of events to cap off our season. Wisconsin Whitewater and Washington University were tough losses, however the huge strides the team had made as a group through out the whole season helped bolster spirits. This was Juniata's 20th showing at the NCAA Finals.

Many of the team members rolled in the high numbers for the season. Junior Brandy Workinger completed 739 kills, while junior Jesse Woods pumped up 1628 sets. Workinger also displayed 689 digs and Niki Mueller completed 98 blocks. Impressive numbers for some freshman also caught the spectators eyes, such as Danielle Hart with 63 service aces, just under Woods' 65 service aces. The team left the court for the season with a 33-10 record and proved to have power.

The team is fortunate not to be losing any seniors and this will allow basic growth for the upcoming year. Lots of little goals were accomplished, and even though the title eluded the team again, the year was still a great one in many different ways. Story by Jesse Woods. Layout by Nicole DeSantis.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL

The Men's Volleyball team, as any other Juniata athletic team, sets goals to advance further statistically every year. The Men's Volleyball team practices long hours to hopefully advance to the playoffs and even nationals every season.

This season the team was led by Scott Kofmehl, Kevin Moore, Bill Todd as the team captains and head coach Ryan Patton. The team was able to travel far and wide during the season and explore outside the normal MAC region. During the season the Eagles had some games that were a clean sweep for Juniata, while others were a clean sweep for the opponents. Although there were ten games that were pushed to have to play the fifth match. Juniata won seven of the ten "down to the wire" matches.

The season was full of impressive statistics. Freshman Javier Garcia completed 336 kills, while freshman Ryan Genova tallied 30 service aces. The majority of the sets came from senior Kevin Moore (734) and sophomore Scott Kofmehl (417). Sophomore Ryan Jackson completed 239 digs and averaged 2.34 digs a game. Sophomore Chris Jones led in blocking with 122 blocks for the season. Overall, the team finished the season with a 13 - 13 overall record and a 7 - 7 conference record. The season ended after a showing at the EIVA Division I Quarterfinals.

The team was filled with talent and great experienced team members. Many very talented freshmen came onto the team and were able to see varsity playing time. The team will be losing two talented seniors to graduation, Kevin Moore and Bill Todd. Story and layout by Nicole DeSantis.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

It was a season to work hard and head for the gold. The main goal was to make it as far as they did the year before and even better yet, exceed that point of the MAC Semifinals. The Women's Basketball team was led by team captains Kelli Young, Kelly Grove and Terri Travers.

The team started their season with a long van ride to Boston, Massachusetts, for the Emmanual College Tournament. The team came in 3rd place, after loosing one teammate to an injury. The season continued and many highs were reached and goals were accomplished. The team had many members that produced amazing statistics for the season. Brandy Preslovich found herself rebounding 192 times, while Kelly Steinbeiser led the team at the free-throw line, shooting 85.7 percent. Young completed 105 assists and Grove completed 43 three-point shots to join Jen LaCount's 27 counted three-pointers.

The Eagles completed the regular season and had made it to Commonwealth playoffs for the second season in a row. The team traveled to Messiah College to complete a close first half, but found themselves short in the end. Coach Buxbaum had created and formed a hard working team that was very dedicated to playing ball. Although the girls lost in the first round of playoffs, they worked hard and have more to look forward to next season.

The team was fortunate not to lose any seniors at the end of this season, but did lose their senior statistician, Nicole DeSantis, who has followed the team for seventy-four consecutive games. A well bonded team will return, with a few new freshmen to add to the talent, with the hope of heading further into playoffs. Layout by Nicole DeSantis.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The Men's Basketball team started the season with a 7-2 record, which was the best starting out record in a long while. This gave the team inspiration to look forward to the second half of the season, after the winter break.

Head Coach Rick Ferry worked hard the previous season to bring in a large handful of recruited freshmen to the court for the 2000-2001 season. As the season progressed a number of the freshmen were able to start varsity, such as Ben Gallagher, Josh Tyler, and Jeff Lau. Returning players, such as Brian Dietrich, Shane Crandall, Dave Reddick and Nathan Hager improved many of their statistics. Crandall finished the season with a 81 percent free-throw average, while Hager completed his career strong under the basket with a total of 77 rebounds. Gallagher was the highlight of the season with averaging 12 points a game and starting in all 24 games. The team gave the spectators something to get excited about, especially during two Commonwealth games that ended in overtime and Juniata on top! The Men's Basketball team held their annual Adelphia/ Doc Greene Tournament and came in first place. The team was also able to travel to Massachusetts during winter break to attend the Holiday Inn-Naismith Classic. The team ended the season 11-13 over all and 4-10 in the MAC.

The team showed their strenghts during the non-conference games and had some difficulty surviving the conference match-ups. This only gives hopes for future seasons and it showed the team that they can have a good season. The team will be losing only two seniors, Hager and Pat Sowerby. Story and layout by Nicole DeSantis.

SWIMMING

The 2000-2001 Swim team broke records, set records, and experienced new adventures. The team was led by captains, Jenn Dorsch and Kara Piazza, and head coach Kathy Collins. Chris Villa and Matt Henry assisted Collins throughout the season. The season ended with a 9 - 5 overall record and a 6 - 3 MAC record. This was one of the best seasons the Swimming team has had.

The team made many improvements before and during the season. The pool area even had a physical change during the season. The Swim team received a new score board and touch pads for the pool to help predict more accurate timing. The team also prepared before the season started with long, hard practices. Some of the more exciting meets included the meets against Mansfield (110-91) and Susquehanna (95-63) where the score was close till the very end and Juniata was able to pull on top for both meets. The Eagles also made a showing at the MAC Championships and placed fourth out of eleven teams. This is an improvement from past seasons. Many of the team members agreed that making such an improvement was, "exciting and challenging for everyone." A couple of members of the Swim team made a showing in Buffalo at the NCAA Championship. This was a first for Juniata and made the school very proud to have such great athletes.

The Swim Team was fortunate to gain ten new talented freshmen to the squad.. The Eagles will lose two seniors, Kara Piazza and Leslie Stewart, to graduation this year. At the end of the season, head coach Kathy Collins resigned and passed the job over to assistant Chris Villa, who will continue the uprising of the Juniata Swim team. Story and layout by Nicole DeSantis.

BASEBALL

The Baseball team started the season with a new head coach, George Zanic. Last year's head coach, Bill Berrier retired December 31, 2000 and handed the team over to assistant Georger Zanic. Coach Zanic prepared the team with months of training and even a spring break trip to Florida. The team went 5-4 during the spring break trip and gave the team a positive start for the season.

The Baseball team continued the season and even had to complete three games in extra innings. These three games concluded with one win, one loss and one tie. The Eagles were able to finish the regular season in second place in the Commonwealth Conference. Juniata played host to Elizabethtown during the first round of the playoffs. The Eagles were able to advance to the second round of playoffs in West Lawn, PA.

The team was statistically talented. The top notch player was junior Tim Dobson, who excelled in many areas on the field. Dobson finished the season with a high 320 put-outs, seven home runs, and a .385 batting average. Other important players included, Matt Eisenberg completing 137 at-bats, Lucas Kelleher scoring 32 runs and Dobson with 35 RBI's, followed by Time Keeley with 29 RBI's. On the defensive side, the key pitcher was junior Clint Wevadau with a 4.44 ERA and freshman Marc Frailey, who ended the season with 91 assists.

The season was a success over all. The goal was to head to Commonwealth playoffs and this was accomplished. The team will lose three players to graduation, Matt Eisenberg, Fred Heaton, and Lucas Kelleher. Story and layout by Nicole DeSantis.

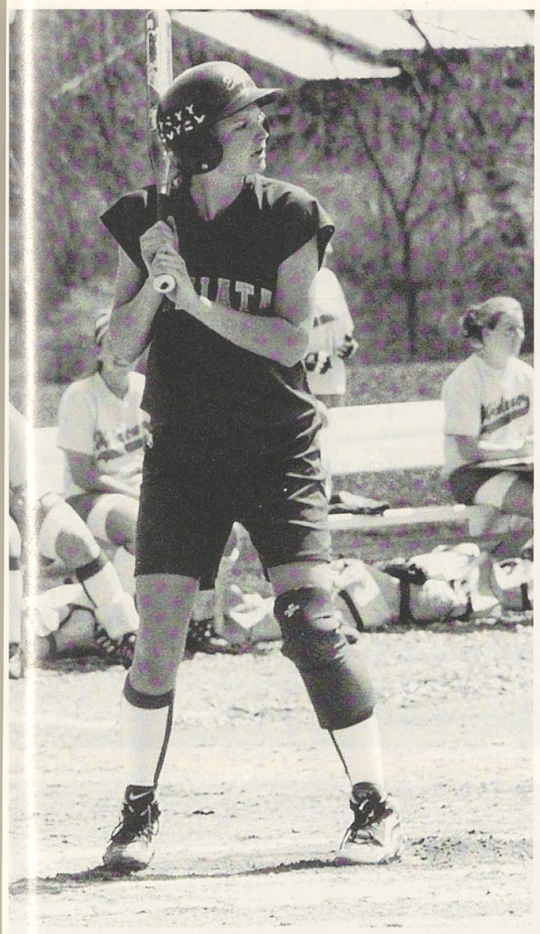
SOFTBALL



Junior Brandy Preslovich stands at home plate preparing herself for just the right pitch. Preslovich came to bat 88 times this season and had 24 singles, eight doubles and a triple. Photography by Nicole DeSantis.

Things were about to change with the Softball team, as leaders Hillary Della Penna and Christie Matthews had many new ideas and adjustments for the new season. The team only lost one senior, Kim Kelly ('00), the previous year, but was gifted with nine new and talented freshmen.

The season began with a fortunate trip to Virginia Beach for spring break. The Eagles trained for the first two days and then participated in a two-day tournament. The girls were able to advance to the semifinals during the tournament and play a total of four games.

During the regular season, Juniata was able to start four of the nine freshmen and five of the returning players. Leading the team, with a batting average of .365, was freshman Amy Gable. Freshmen Becky Herr and Sarah Patterson also made the top of the batting average. Strong returning players included, Hillary Della Penna, Brandy Preslovich, Christie Matthews, Pam Michael, and Lauren Baker. Each of these team members made a great number of accomplishments during the season. Preslovich tallied 13 RBI's for the season.

Working around Mother Nature, the team had a rough start, but ended the season with a close call of being qualified for MAC playoffs. One of the most memorable, yet confusing, games of the season was the second game at Susquehanna. The umpires should have called the game in the 5th inning, when Juniata was up, and did not. They then decided that they would call that game in the 7th inning... due to darkness. This meant that the game had to be replayed at a later date. Unfortunately, the Eagles returned for the third game and fell short.

The season was overall an improvement from any other Juniata Softball season. This season, Coach Ziga had a very talented team that worked well together. The team will lose one player to graduation, first baseplayer Hillary Della Penna, who will be truely missed. Story and layout by Nicole DeSantis.

TRACK & FIELD

The season was filled with goals and accomplishments. The Track and Field team started out the season with attending a few indoor meets to prepare for the upcoming challenging, yet, exciting spring season. Both, Women's and Men's teams excelled with breaking records and even a showing at MAC Championships. The Eagles hosted their annual Blue and Gold Invitational at Knox Stadium in March. The Men's team excelled and came in second out of six, as did the Women's team.

During the season the Men's 4x100- meter relay squad improved their time to 43.51, which broke the school record. The relay squad included Dusty Lehr, Nick Wolfe, Ashely Mort, and Jimmy Gray. On the Men's side was also achiever senior John Creuzberger, who threw for the Eagles and broke school records. Creuzberger won his fourth straight individual crown in the shot-put with a throw of 47-6 and set a school record in the hammer throw (90-8). He became the first-ever male performer in conference annals to win one specific throwing event in four years.

On the Women's side, the strenght came from senior Kristy Wagner and sophomore Hilary Bright who excelled in the triple jump. More power and points came from Carol Longenecker in the pole vault competition, Melissa Flint in high jump and freshman Stefanie Rynkewitz, who placed first in the 400-meter dash with a school record time of 59.11.

Overall, the Track and Field team excelled and accomplished many goals throughout the season. The team will lose some very valuable seniors, but will allow growth within the underclassmen participants.

CLUB SPORTS

Because of Title IX NCAA Regulations many sports can not be added to the varsity list. Juniata gives these sports the option of creating Club Sports. These teams include Men's Club Volleyball, Men's Lacrosse, and Men's and Women's Rugby.

These club teams get involved in tournaments and many games against other Division II & III schools. These teams have to raise most of their money to participate in these games and tournaments. The Women's Club Volleyball team started to gather a team this year, as well as Women's Club Lacrosse.

If you are not interested in club sports, you could kick it down one notch and join any of the many Intermural teams for great fun with friends and classmates. Story and layout by Nicole DeSantis.

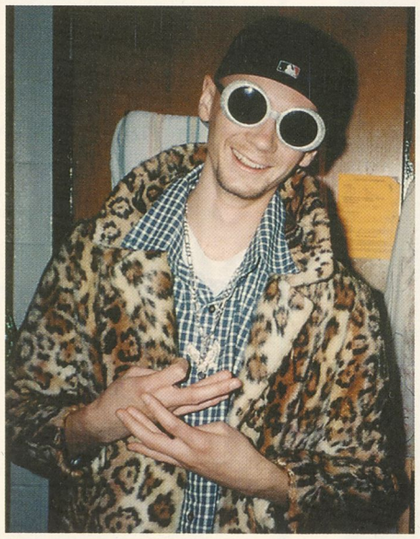
Bringing back the memories on this one, Erik Bungo dresses up in 1997 for the North ganster party.



Tough and buff, Travis Frenay shows his stuff in the weight room, while Scott Livingston peers from behind. Many students take advantage of using the weight room throughout the day.

Michael Blucas, Michael Trestka, and Timothy Keeley show their support at an athletics event on campus.

The ODK, Leadership Honor Society, honors the seniors of 2001. ODK includes Brian Olsen, Deb Hess, Erin McElroy, Parish Shah, Wossie Mezengia, Amy Laughlin, Brian Eggart, Jen Greening and advisors Randy Rosenburger and Belle Tuten.

Nicole DeSantis, Matthew Eisenberg, Colin Gillen and Jennifer Scordato enjoy the Madrigal Dinner, while showing the toys that were left on each table as gifts.

Before the Winter Formal many friends gather in their apartments to hang out and get ready. Lucas DeJohn, Andrew Scott, Todd Feathers, Daniel Figueroa, Peter Branney, and Kevin Lightner gather for a group shot before heading to the Elks Club, where the formal is held.

Every year the Alumni Association holds a Senior Dinner to prepare the seniors to enter the "real world." Michael Conway, AbbieGongloff, Jeremy Henderson and Xavier Oriol-Anguera enjoy the banquet.

Alexander Metcalf, Dina Leslie, and Susan Scheuering celebrate the end of the first semester at a party after the Madrigal Dinner.

These class clowns, Colin Gillen and Matthew Eisenberg, jump in with the Madrigal Orchestra before heading into the dinner.

Dressing up for the Halloween weekend is fun for everyone on campus.

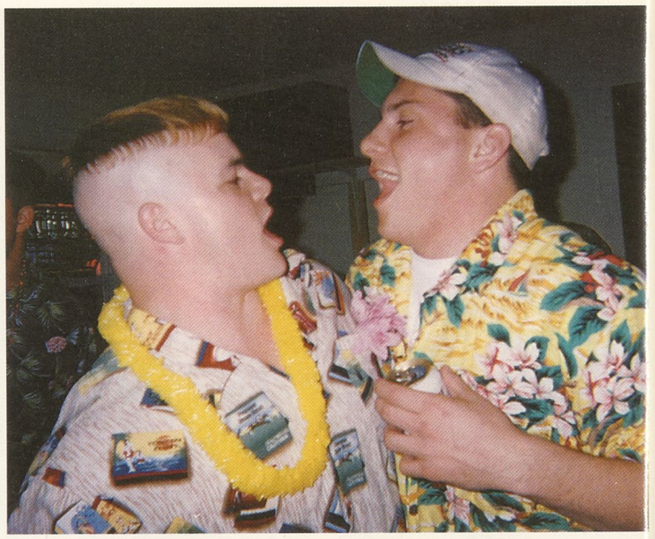
Lobsterfest is the opening tradition at Juniata. Shannon Powers, Erin McElroy and Kylie Gensimore enjoy the special treat of the lobster dinner.

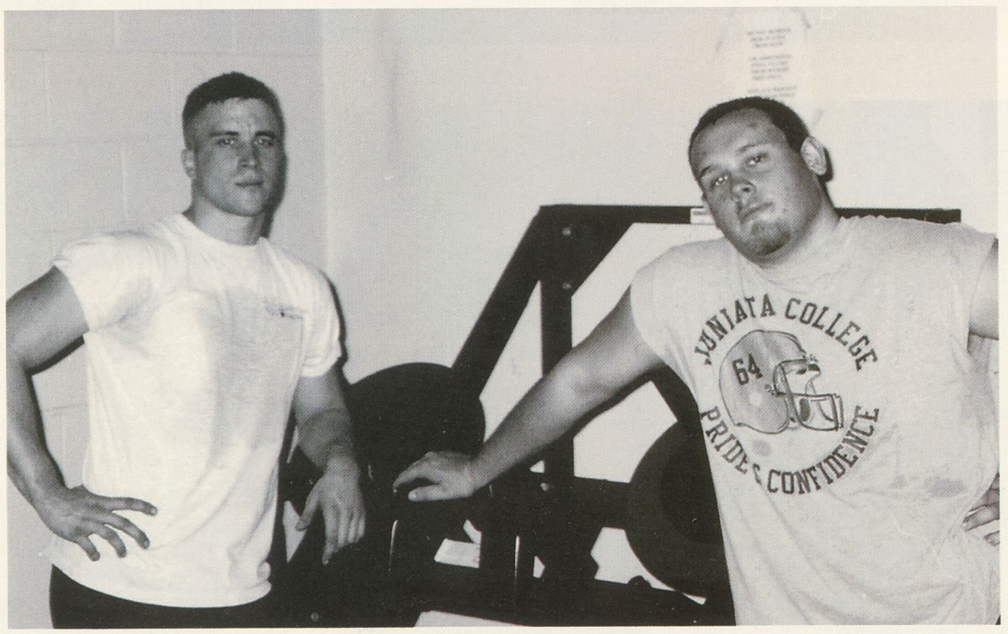
Hillary Della Penna, Rachel Knepp, and Nicole DeSantis show off their costumes for the Halloween weekend. Many students participated, by dressing up for many parties that were held around campus.

Lauren Woodard, Erik Bungo and Carla O'Brian dressed up as "Little Bo Peep and her(his) sheep" for the Halloween weekend. This had to be one of the most creative costumes!

Andrea Able, Maria Mandas and Beth MacAleer, also take part in the eventful weekend.



Dressed in Hawaiian wear, Shawn Hartman and Andrew Grace sing to each other during a wild and crazy party in the East Towers.



Tough guys, Michael Blucas and Colin Gillen, take a break from the hard workout that they complete everyday in the fitness center.

Lena Gowder, Beth Knechtel, Mary Baxter, Rachel DeHart, and Erin Winter celebrate a Saturday evening in East houses.

Jennifer Scordato, Carla C'Brian, Michael Conway, Lauren Woodard, and Jeremy Henderson take a break after a night of sled-riding.

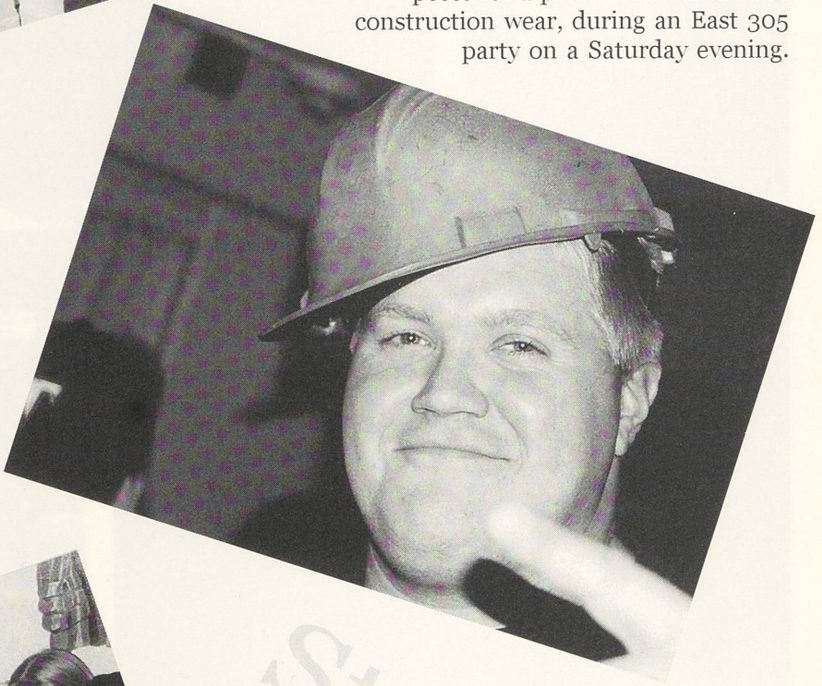
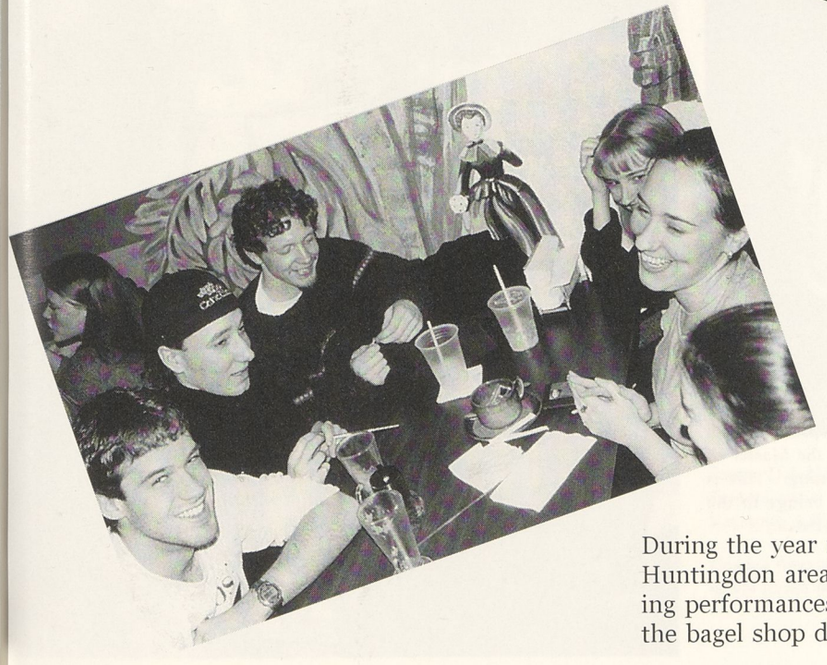
During the Men's Basketball games, a group of students would come to cheer on the basketball team. These students would dress in unique attire and bring unusual accessories along with them. Pictured here is Joshua Tkacik, Joseph Facciani, Alan Rodgers, Colin Gillen, Joshua Chubb, Andrew Radomsky, Scott Baker, Nathan Leach, and Sean Reed.

Weekends were an exciting time during the year. Junior Tyrus Young poses for a photo with his famous construction wear, during an East 305 party on a Saturday evening.



Juniors Kim Kelly and Jennifer Goddard, dressed as cheerleaders, traveled the campus to go trick-or-treating on Halloween. Kelly and Goddard performed stunts throughout the night.



During the year many events were held around the Huntingdon area. Many students enjoyed watching performances, musicians, and other events at the bagel shop downtown.

OFF CAMPUS

THE FACTS:

~ Mission: Located at 18th and Washington Street.
~ Mission houses 20 students: 4 apartments for 5 people each.
~ Pink: Located across the street from the Brumbaugh Science Center on Moore Street.
~ Pink is composed of 8 apartments, 4 four-person apartments, and 4 two-person apartments.
~ Hess: Located at 16th and Washington Street.

Many parties and events are held off campus, while all students enjoy them. Nicole Waddle and Megan Wagaman celebrate the last days of being students at Juniata at a party at the Brass Rail. Photography by Mary Baxter.

Jesse Rhodes played a few songs for the Open Mic Night. Everyone who wanted to participate had a chance to join in and show their talent. Photography by Michael Blattenberger.

SHERWOOD

THE FACTS:

~ Sherwood was built in 1961 and renovated in 1992.
~ It was named after the Sherwood Forest that used to be part of campus.
~ Sherwood houses 123 students and is co-ed by floor.
~ It is also equipped with a movie pit in the basement.
~ Sherwood is located by the Winton Hill, where the Soccer and Field Hockey teams play.

Students spent their evenings at all kinds of different events. Toph Miller, Jeanean Chiusano, Ryan Mills-Knapp, and Katie Hildebrand join other Juniata students at an Open Mic Night at Billi's Bric-a-Brac Bagel Shop. Photography by Michael Blattenberger.

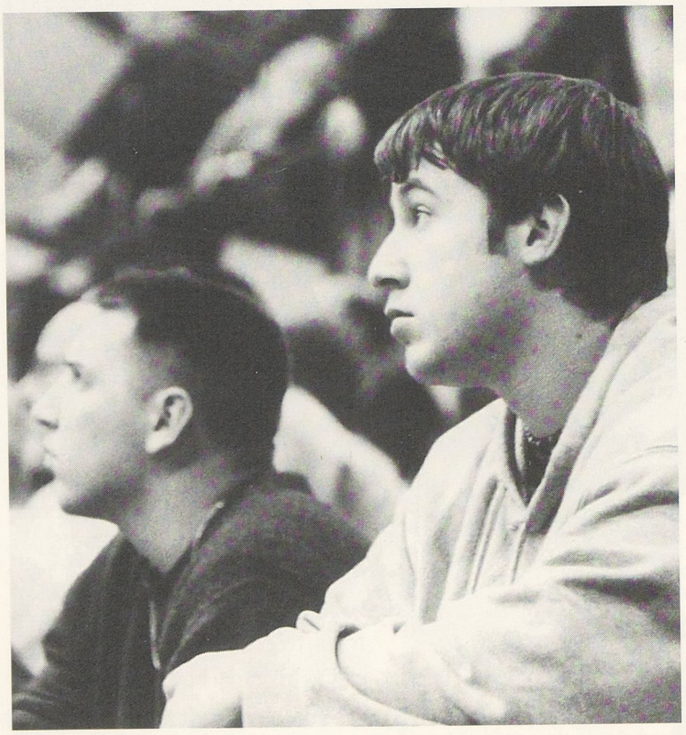
SOUTH

THE FACTS:

~ South was built in 1962.
~ It houses 152 students.
~ South is the first dorm to organize living arrangements of co-ed by room.
~ This dorm gives you the best seats in the house for all the athletic events held in Knox Stadium.
~ South includes a study lounge on the top two floors, a large carpeted lounge on the first floor and a basement lounge.



Matt Slegal and John Miller enjoy the action of the sporting event that is taking place in Memorial Gym. Enjoying athletic events was a way to relax on the weekends and evenings or between studies. Photography by Jason Stouffer.

Students gather before class to exchange notes and discuss topics of all sorts. Juniata's student to faculty ratio is approximately 14 to 1.

Art & Music

The Art & Music Departments are growing every year. The Art Department offers POE programs that include Art History, Museum Studies, Art Management, as well as, Fine Art & Ceramic classes. The Music Department offers classes to enhance the knowledge of the Musical World. Such classes include Music Fundamentals, Survey of Western Music and more.

Biology, Chemistry, & Environmental Science

The Biology, Chemistry and Environmental Science Departments have a lot to offer the students. Biology courses include Biology, Ecology, & Zoology classes. The Chemistry Department offers Organic and Inorganic courses, as well as Chemistry and the World Around Us. The ES&S program is a POE that works with many of the other departments at Juniata and integrates many topics.

Accounting, Business, & Economics

The Business Department has a lot of different options for student to take while entering the Business world. The Business Department offers POE programs in Accounting, Business & Information Technology, Finance, Human Resource Management, International Business, Management, Marketing, and Economics. The Business Department has a great networking program that assists with internship opportunities.

Education

The Education Department blends historic strengths of an experienced program with innovative and rigorous activities. Working in close collaboration with public schools & the Early Childhood Center, students apply an understanding of theory and knowledge through a series of carefully constructed practicum experiences in special & general classroom settings during the student's four-year education.

Professor Fay Glosenger and Dr. Robert Gundling attended the events during the College's Birthday and Women's Celebration weekend.

The Geology & Physics Departments are located on the North wing of the BSC. The Geology Department faculty includes David Lehmann, Larry Mutti, and Robert Washburn. The Geology courses that one can take include Oceanography, Weather & Climate, Historical Geology, Paleobiology, Stratigraphy and more, which could lead to a Geology or Earth & Space Science POE. The Physics Department offers POE options of Physics and Physic/ Pre-Engineering.

Math, Computer Science, & Information Technology

The Math & Computer Science Departments are tightly connected. Some of the courses that you could take in the Mathematics program include Calculus, Statistics, & Quantitative Methods. The Computer Science program offers Computer Programming, Software Design, & Database Management System. The newest POE option at Juniata includes the Information Technology (IT) program. This program works with current tools & technologies for networking, application development, digital media, & electronic publishing.

History, PACS, Philosophy, & Religion

The History & Religion Departments are closely related and even combine some courses. Juniata is one of approximately 100 colleges and universities in the United States with academic offerings in peace studies and one of a few select academic institutions where students can take a full major in the field. The Philosophy department seeks to engage students in those kinds of careful and critical thinking which relate to the total life experience: logic, ethics, aesthetics, methods of knowing, and levels of being.

Psychology, Sociology, Social Work, & Antropology

The Psychology department's purpose is to provide exposure to the content, methodology, & theoretical developments associated with the study of behavior. The Sociology department's offerings may be combined to meet three kinds of academic needs: the broad study of societies and cultures and their contemporary problems for the liberally-educated; a theoretical and conceptual orientation for pre-professional sociologists & anthropologists bound for graduate school; and rigorous training and field experience in social work for those interested in this career.

Campus Staff

"Juniata College is a community dedicated to providing the highest quality liberal education. The aim of that education is to awaken students to the empowering richness of the mind and to enable them to lead fulfilling and useful lives."
~ Juniata Mission Statement.

The Staff and Faculty at Juniata work each day to help the campus with fulfilling this statement. Each day these wonderful members of the campus community are there to help each and every student in any way.

Campus Staff

At Juniata, students find extraordinary opportunities, available, in large part, because of our extraordinary faculty members. Imagine Juniata students working side-by-side with a faculty member conducting a research project in chemistry; or, imagine students presenting papers at major conferences, or, imagine Juniata students having their research published.... It is all possible at Juniata because Juniata faculty members teach and guide students through the learning process.

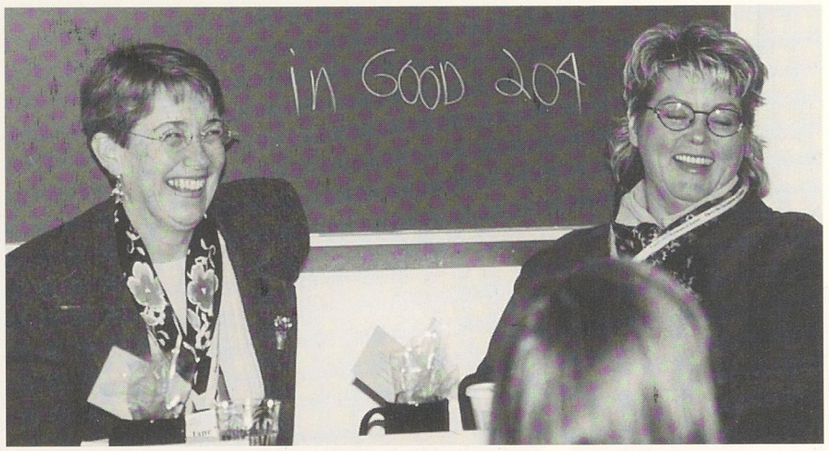
Women's Celebration

This was a celebration for and about women, but it was most definitely not gender-exclusive. The weekend was about storytelling, rekindling old friendships, and to create new memories. This weekend was a weekend to recognize Juniata's 125th anniversary as a college that has educated women and new equally since its inception in 1876.



Jane Croyle ('95) and Becky Koren ('78) were participants in the Women's Work session, which included a question and answer section.

Chad Herzog, Bill Phillips, Chip Cherry, Robert Gundling, and Bob Sill celebrate the women of Juniata. The weekend was a celebration about women, but most definitely not gender-exclusive.

President Kepple celebrates the 125th Birthday Celebration, which was also held the same weekend as the Women's Celebration.

Many of the Women's Celebration sessions were held in classrooms around campus.

125th Anniversary

Along with the Women's Celebration, which was cordinated by Helen Schmidlen Adams ('57), Dorothy Lehman Hershberger ('50), Aliceann Wohlbruck ('58) and Pat Kepple, was also the celebration of Juniata's 125th Anniversary. All of the events during the weekend combined the achievements of women and men, as well as a birthday party for the small libreral arts college in Huntingdon, Pennsylvania.

JoAnn deArmas Wallace recites a poem by Jenny Joseph, "When I am an old woman, I shall wear purple."

A wide variety of students, alumni, faculty and staff attended the sessions during the celebration weekend. The Women in Science session was held in a classroom in Good Hall, where an open invitation was held.

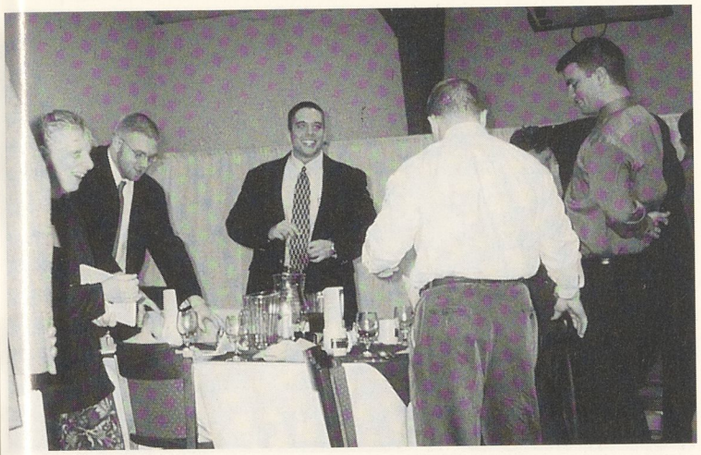
Student Government

Student Government is a group of students that help with communication between the students and the administration on campus. Student Government is in charge of distributing the budget each year to the clubs on campus. They also deal with student concerns. Student Government also helds biannually forums for the students to ask questions to the administration. Student Government is a helping hand for the students and activities on campus.



Ray Ghaner and Jeremy Patterson, both very active in the student government, spend time with the rest of their class during the senior dinner.

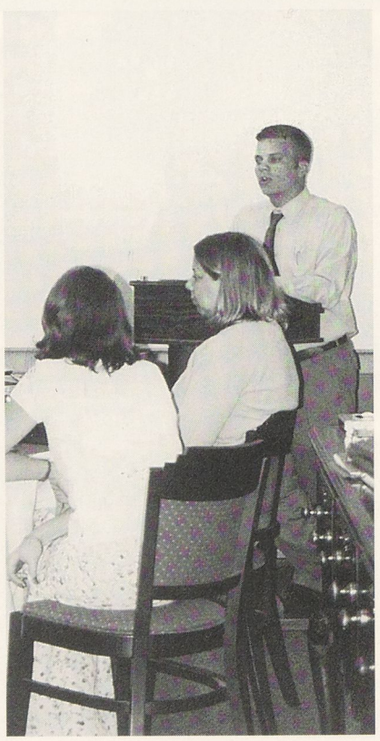
Communication Clubs

Communication clubs are very important in recording campus history and relaying it to the students and campus community. This year the Juniatian was discontinued for the reason of the lack of members that participated on the staff. The Alfarata had a dedicated small staff that produced the book and captured many memories. Kvasir, produced many mini-issues, and WKVR, fill the airways with many student ran radio shows.

Professor Donna Weimer, head of the communication department, is also the advisor of the Alfarata, WKVR and the Juniatian.



Chad Herzog was a guest speaker for the Communication Banquet. The banquet is a way for the editors and club presidents to thank their staff and representatives for a job well-done.

Community Service Clubs

Community Service Clubs spend endless hours lending many helping hands throughout the year. Habitat for Humanity held their annual boxed homes donation overnight event in December. JC Outreach brought the American Red Cross Blood Drive to campus. Circle K held their 3rd Annual Mr. Juniata competition for a donation to the Iodine Deficiency Disorder organization. And many other field trips were made to help those in need.

Sports Clubs

Many sports clubs joined the list of clubs this year. The Golf club became active and played at a local golf course. The Equestrian Club held field trips for horse back riding, while the Ultimate Frisbee club was always rounding up a group to play behind Ellis Hall. The FCA (Fellow Christian Athletes) held many events for the students and faculty to participate in, such as open gym nights and dodge ball games. The Women's Volleyball club participated in matches in the evenings in Memorial Gym.

Many students enjoyed attending the club sporting events on campus. Although some students also enjoyed watching from the towers of East.

Science Clubs I

There are many clubs on campus that relate to science and environmental concerns. From hiking, to climbing, to conservation concerns, to bird watching, or even recycling there are many different clubs you can join and participate in their numerous activities. The Conservation club held the Student Environmental Action Coalition Conference in March. Some of these clubs held events on campus, while others traveled into nature or even to the Field Station at Lake Raystown.

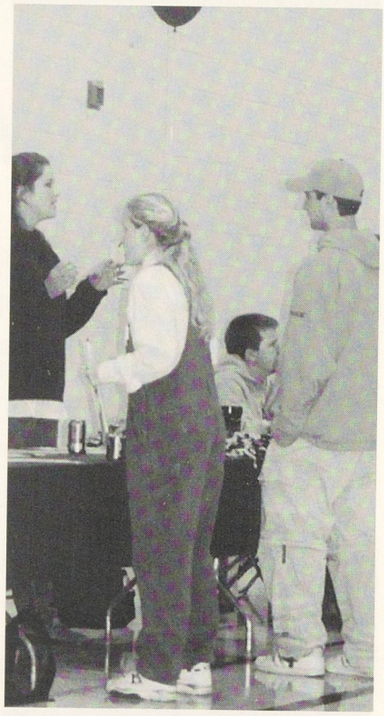
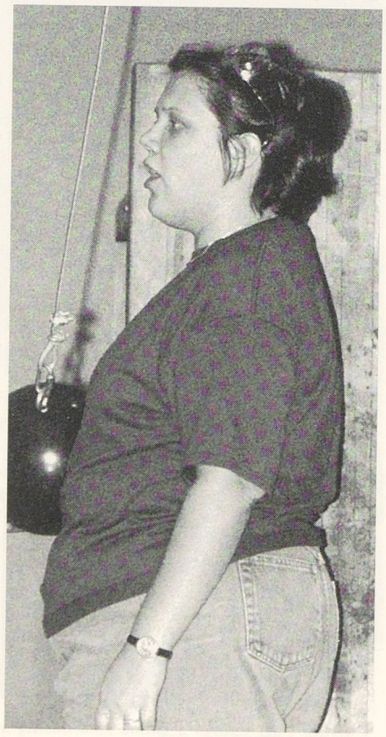
Clayton Lutz enjoys a canoe ride during a field trip. Many clubs and classes take field trips during the year to help keep the students active and offer new adventures.

Science Clubs II

There are many clubs that are closely related to many of the department and courses on campus, such as the science courses. The Physics students held their annual Physics Phun Night in Alumni Hall. This was a great event for the campus community and the citizens of the town to enjoy and participate in. Experiments and demonstrations were performed for the audience. The Geology club took hiking and climbing trips during the year in search of new rocks and fossils.

Lavinia Kolarczyk participates in many clubs around campus and is very welcoming to give new students an introduction to the clubs that she participates in.





Suzanne Zimmerman particiaptes in the Physics Phun Night in Alumni Hall. Many students are very active in the clubs that they participate in.

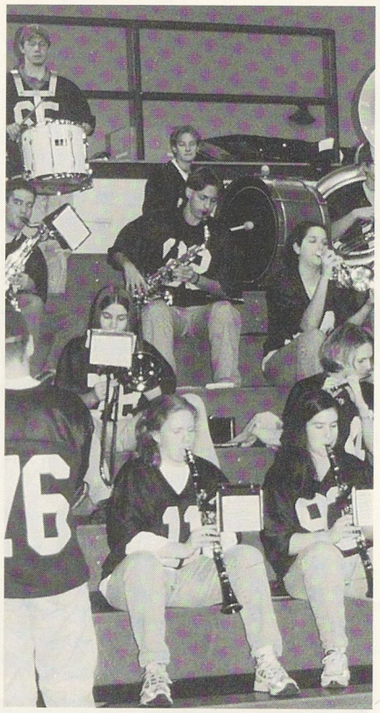
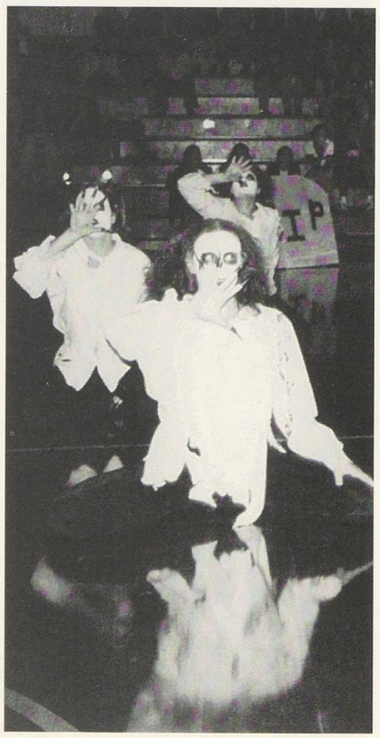
During the Women's Celebration a guest playwriter, Rob Biter ('92) joined Michelle Corby and Deborah Windhorst in a play about a relationship between a doctor, his patient, and his wife.

Dance & Pep Band

The Dance Ensamble & Pep Band were two of the most active clubs on campus. They both performed during football and basketball events, as well as, Lip Sync and other on campus events. The Dance Ensamble held their own recital at the end of the year in Oller Hall. These groups practiced on a strict schedule. The Dance Ensamble even choreographed their own dances & performances. Both clubs spend each year growing and expanding in size and experience.

The Pep Band played during the Men's Basketball games to keep the excitement going throughout the game.





The Dance Ensemble quickly prepared a Homecoming week dance that delt with the "Uncommon Outcomes" theme.

International, Language, & Other Clubs

The International club, Foreign Language clubs and other clubs on campus would hold dinners, dances, and other events for the campus to enjoy. The clubs would also work closely with their departments and courses to make a connection between the two. Some of the group members even participated in club field trips and other events. The mission of these clubs were to make the campus aware of other cultures from around the world.

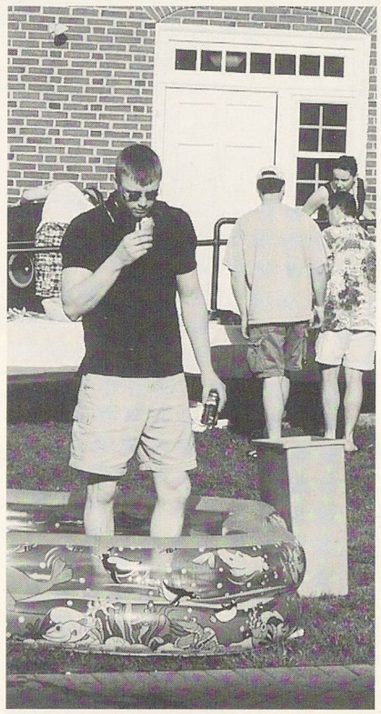
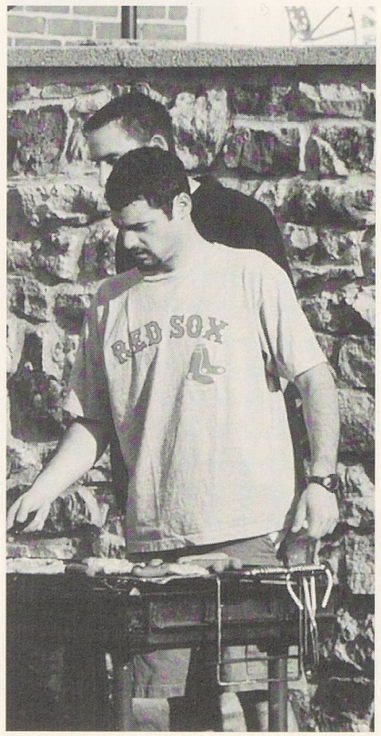
Spring Events

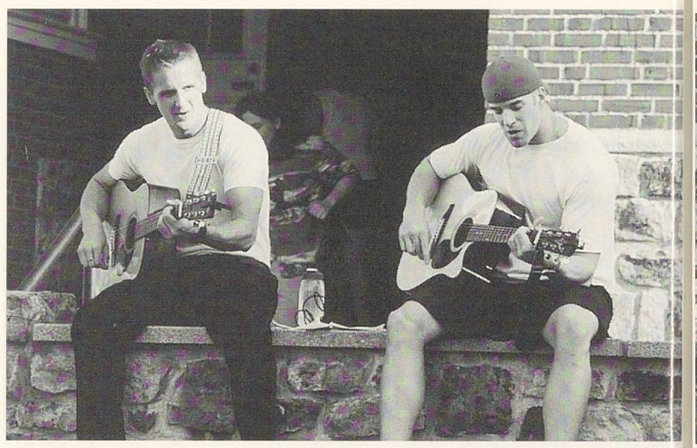
It's the time of year when every student gets the case of SPRING FEVER! Most students want to spend the afternoon in the warm sun and participating in outdoor activities. This year the Cloister C-Board held a picnic for their dorm members and invited others to come listen to the tunes of Travis Frenay and Morgan Forgelman. An evening picnic and music was just the right combination for a relaxing time. Burgers, hotdogs and drinks were served for the event.

Cloister held a spring picnic that included food, beverages and music. Neil Lukas takes a short stride through the kiddie pool.

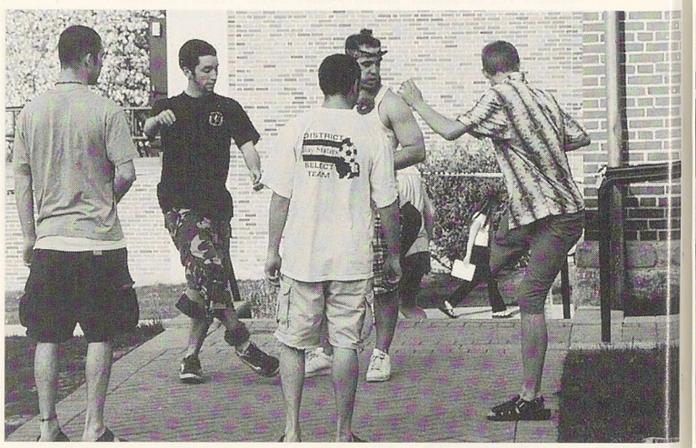




Residental Life Director, Chris Villa was in charge of grilling up the burgers for the evening.



Travis Frenay and Morgan Fogelman grab a seat on the Cloister porch and played tunes for many Juniata listeners. Frenay and Fogelman played together throughout the year at numerous places and at many events.



A group of Cloister men gather outside to toss around the hacky sack before grabbing a bite to eat. The picnic was full of activities and many non-Cloister residents enjoyed visiting the event.

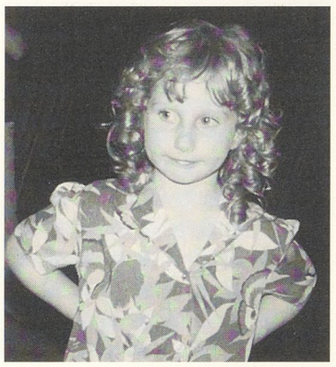
Alison Goodman

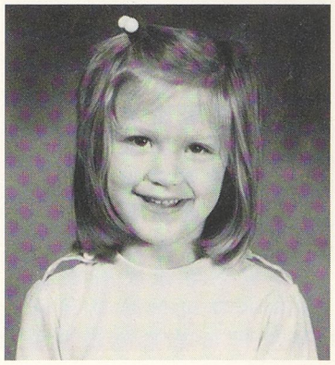


Dear Alison,
There once was a girl who had lots of curls "Lucy Newman" was her name. Now she is all grown up. I wish Alison lots of love and luck as she starts down the road to fame.
Love, Mom

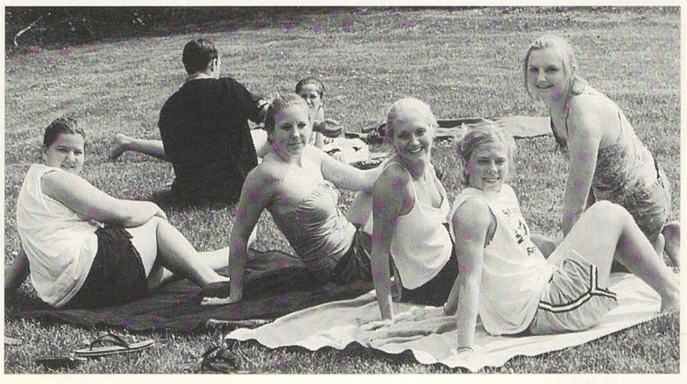
Todd Alan Fortney

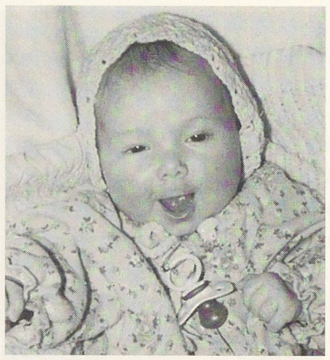
Dear Todd,
Look how Mom and Dad sent you off to Kindergarten! You were so cute then and NOW. We love you very much. Congratulations!
Love, Mom & Dad

Johna Edmonds



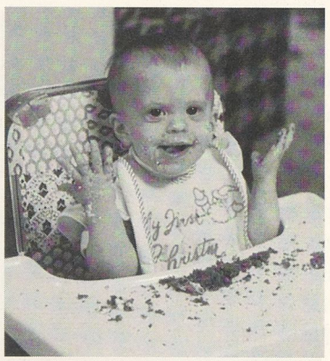
Dear Johna,
You're such a special daughter. I will always be proud of you.
Love you, Mom





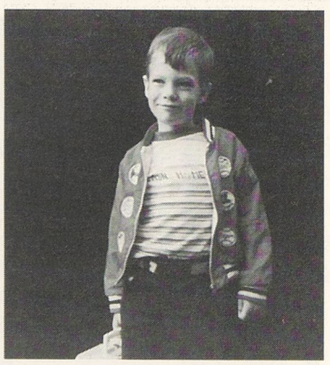
Althea Rodgers

Dear Althea,
We are so proud of you! May you always "act justly, love tenderly, & walk humbly with your God" as you go out to make your contribution to the environment.
With all our love & prayers, Mom & Dad



Sannon E. Powers

Dear Shannon,
ALL DONE!
Congratulations!
Love, Mom & Dad



Tad E. Stauffer

Dear Tad,
Congratulations! Here you are--- from the first day of school--- to graduation--- you made it!
With love from Mom & Dad

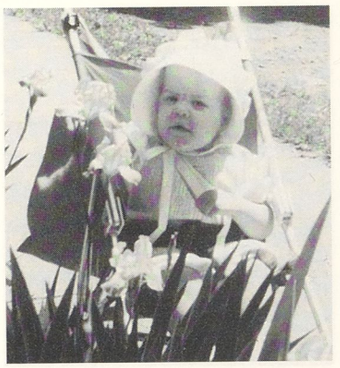
Rachel G. Knepp

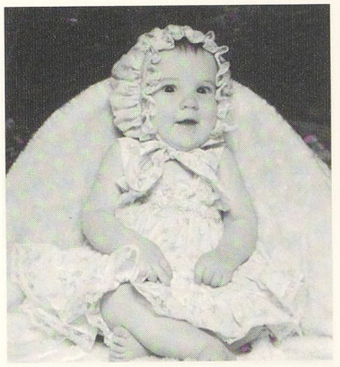


Our Dearest Rachel,
Your love of flowers and plants began before your first birthday. You've got a lifetime ahead of you.
Be happy.
We love you, Mom & Dad

Melissa A. Herbut

Dear Melissa,
We remember well that determined little girl who never gave up and kept smiling! That is the reason for your success. you made it! We are very proud.
We love you, Mom & Dad

Mary E. Baxter



Dear Mary,
Your entire family is very proud of you. You've put up with a lot being the youngest, but you have survived. We wish you all the best, health, wealth, and happiness in all you strive to do.
Love, Dad, Mom, & Sisters

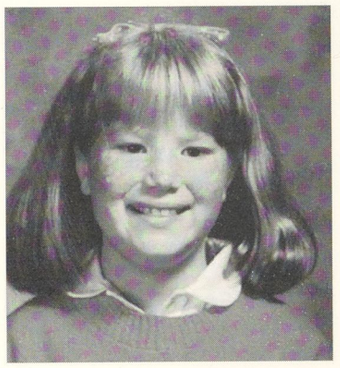
Erin Winter

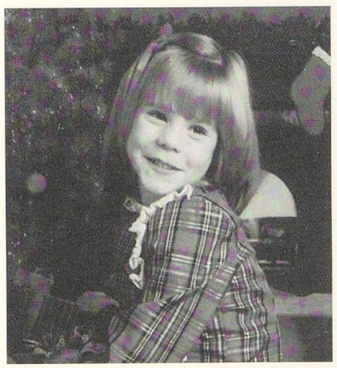


Dear Erin,
"Teach them guide them, that you must or your dreams will turn to dust!" Congratulations on your dream come true! We are so proud of you!
Love ya, Mom, Dad, Ashley, and family

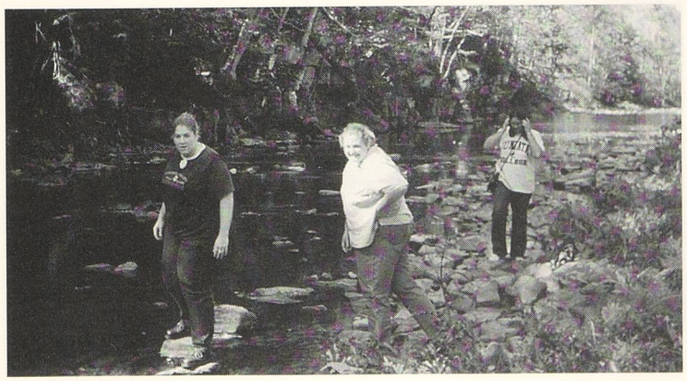
Abbie Gongloff

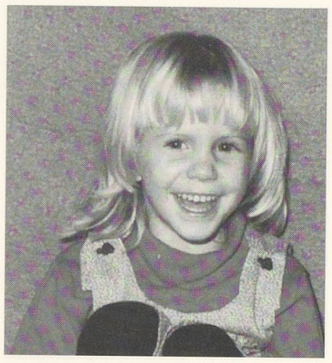
Dearest Abbie,
From Kindergarten to College and beyond....
God's bright sunshine overhead,
God's flowers beside your feet,
The path of life that you must tread
Can be a little hold of fear or dread;
And by such pleasant pathways led,
May all your life be sweet.
-Helen Waithman
Love, Mom & Dad

Kylie Errin Gensimore



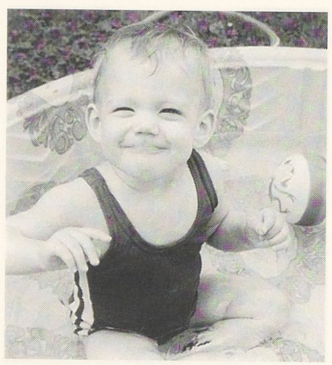
Dearest Kylie,
You are love and laughter, beautiful and good, honest and principled, sensitive and intelligent. Never stop believing in yourself. Dare to dream.
Love, Mom & Dad





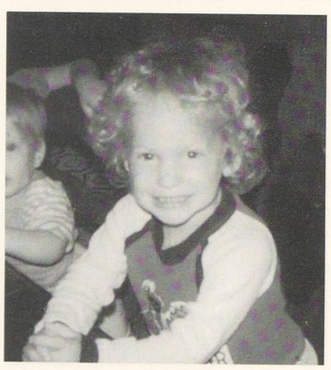
Laurel Dziuk

Dear Laurel,
You were an enchanting child and you have become a delightful young woman. We can't wait to see what comes next.
Love, Mom & Dad



Heather S. Galbraith

Dear Heather,
We are so proud of you and your accomplishments. Know that we love you always!
Love, Mom & Dad



Sarah Radford

Dear Sarah,
The sparkle we saw in your eyes at two has only gotten brighter. The world is waiting for you Sarah. We're proud of you.
Love, Mom, Dad, Jesse, & Erin

Another memorable year at Juniata has been completed. Juniata celebrated its 125th anniversary, broke ground at the Field Station, and began construction for the von Liebig Science Center. The Alfarata staff tried to recognize many of these changes and the celebrations throughout the year in this eighty-third edition of the Alfarata. Once again, the Alfarata staff was small, but we worked endless hours, during the school year, as well as the summer months to complete this book of memories. "Celebrating Change" could not have been published without the help of a variety of people, such as the Alumni Office, Sports Information, the Post Office, and other offices around campus.

Two important people that played a significant role in the production of "Celebrating Change" are Marilyn Maitland and Jim Rainey. Marilyn was our Herff-Jones representative who helped with the production of the book, while Jim, our DaVor representative, helped with our photography. Without these two companies and representatives our book would never exist.

Heather Bumbarger and the Help Desk Staff deserve a round of applause for assisting us with our computer system and program setup. We would like to thank our faculty advisor, Donna Weimer, who gave the staff many great ideas, suggestions, and advice throughout the year.

Personally, I would like to thank and recognize my executive officers, Heather Stahlman, Jason Stouffer, and Jennifer Scordato. Heather did an excellent job keeping the business aspect in order and raised enough funds to allow us to build a high quality book. Heather also built and designed a database for herself and future Business Managers. Jason, my right-hand photographer, always had a camera in hand and did a wonderful job trying to catch every event on campus. Jen assigned stories to the staff members and also prepared many of the stories herself. Without these executive staff members, I would not have been able to produce such a detailed and complete book. I would also like to thank the other helping hands of the staff for everything they had done.

We hope that we have met your expectations in our attempt to capture the many memorable moments and changes of Juniata. Everyday the campus gave a different appearance and we worked hard to capture the changes, not only of the campus grounds, but the student life, athletic improvements, and the new and creative ideas that come with every traditional event. We hope that this book will help you reminisce about your experience at Juniata during the year 2000-2001.

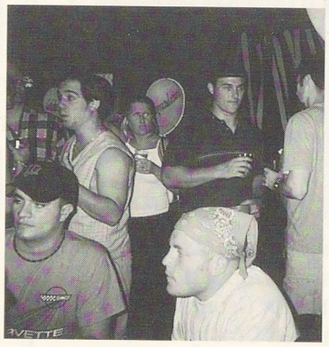
Senior Week allows classmates to bond and reminisce about the four years at Juniata. It was a week about bonding with others from the Class of 2001 and even get to meet those you didn't know during the four years.



The Brass Rail(Days Inn) is a bar that most students do not make a usual trip to. During Senior Week, the Brass Rail holds a party for the students to celebrate and for the chance for friends to re-bond during the last few days.

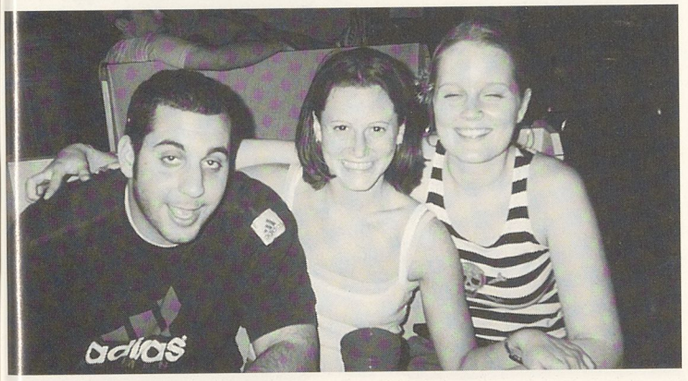
Jeanean Chiusano and Kathy McCann replay their famous Field Hockey moments: The Chest Bump! This can be a challenge with a beer in hand!

SENIOR WEEK OF FUN!



Senior Week 2001 was filled with various activities for the seniors to participate in. The week started with a senior/faculty softball game on Tuesday evening. On Wednesday the Brass Rail held a party for the seniors. Thursday was the Annual Bar Walk, which included Sid's, Boxer's, Friendly's, Matt's, Johnny's and the all famous J's Bar. A picnic was held on Friday at Lake Raystown and when the students returned it was an evening of Beer Olympics. The whole week consisted of bonding with friends and classmates and a celebration for the four years of hard work!

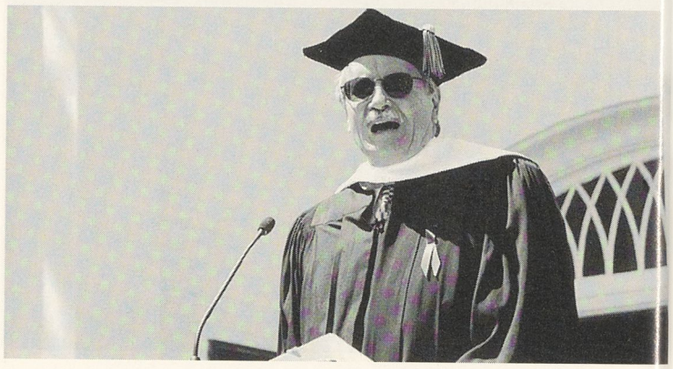
The daring five: Travis "Chachi" Frenay, Bill Todd, Kevin Moore, John Creuzberger, and Morgan Fogelman climb to the top of Matt's Bar during Bar Walk.

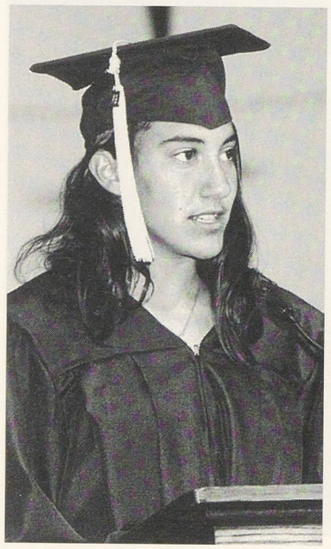
GRADUATION 2001!

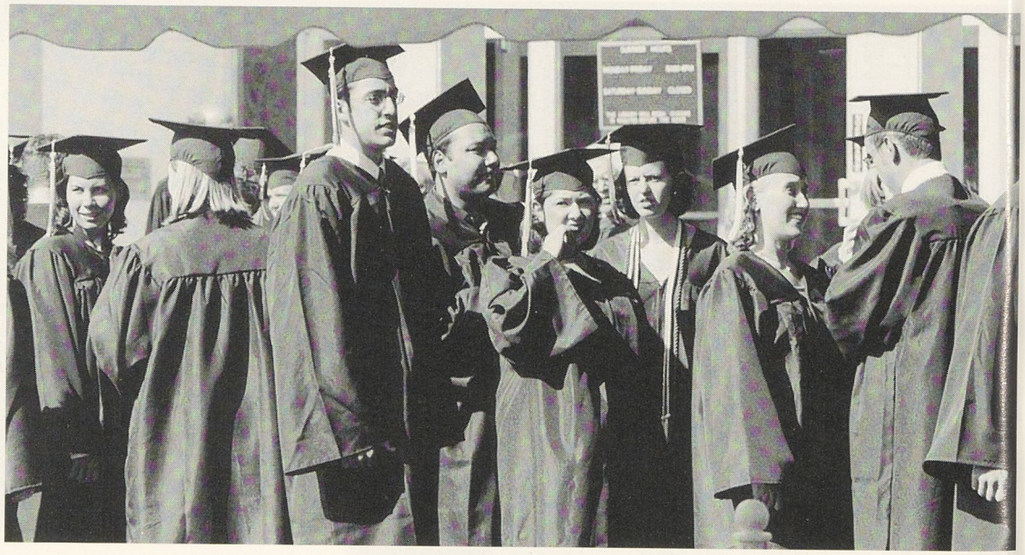


The guest speaker was Bruce Davis for this years Graduation ceremony. Davis was a great motivational speaker and sent words of wisdom to the graduates.

To start the day off these seniors get prepared outside the library to head into Oller Hall for the Baccalaureate ceremony.

Kristy Wagner was a Baccalaureate speaker for the religious ceremony held in the morning of Graduation.





Each graduate receives a hood after receiving their diploma. Michelle DeLaFuente waits while she is being hooded during the ceremony.

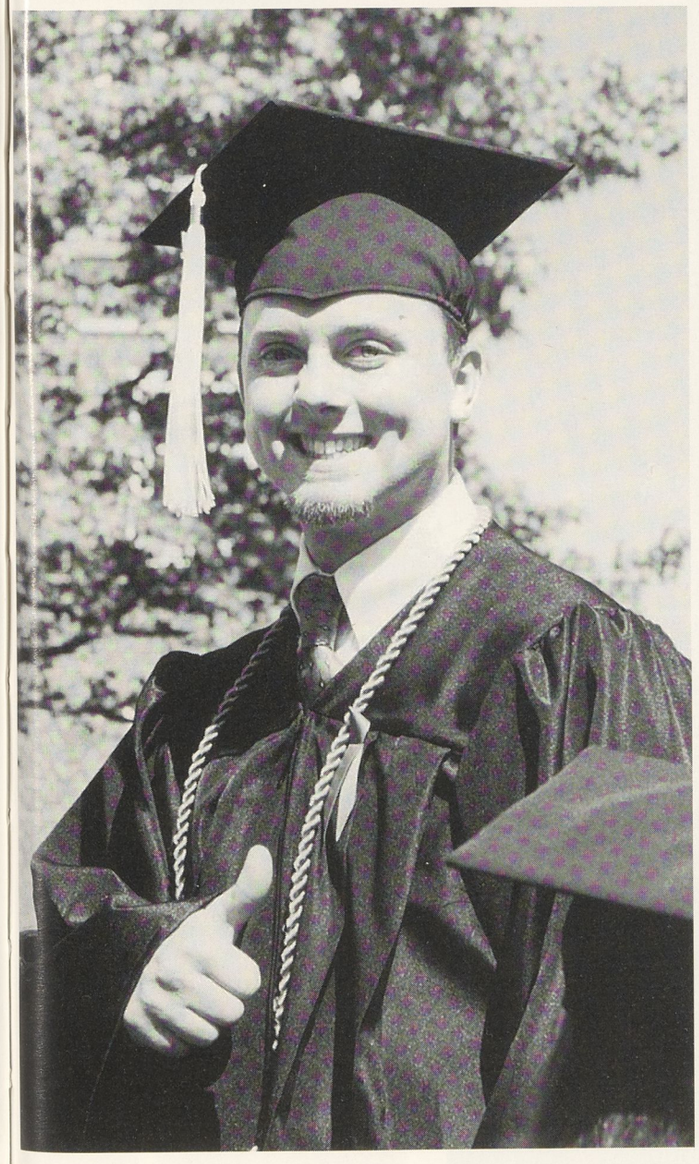
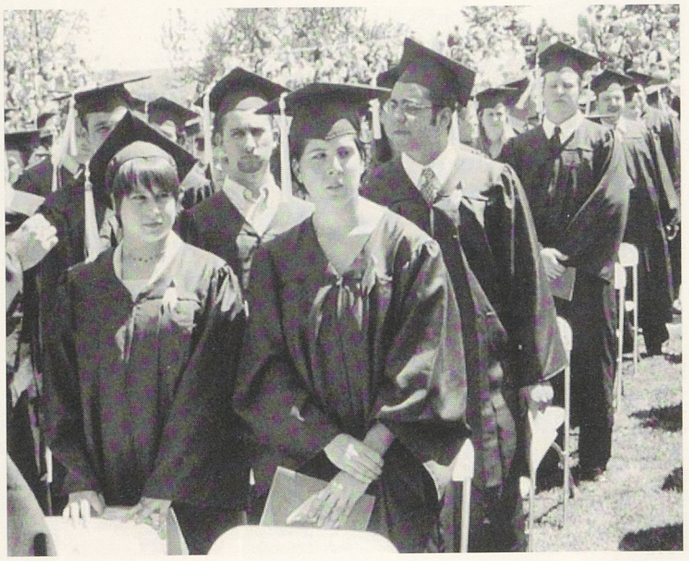
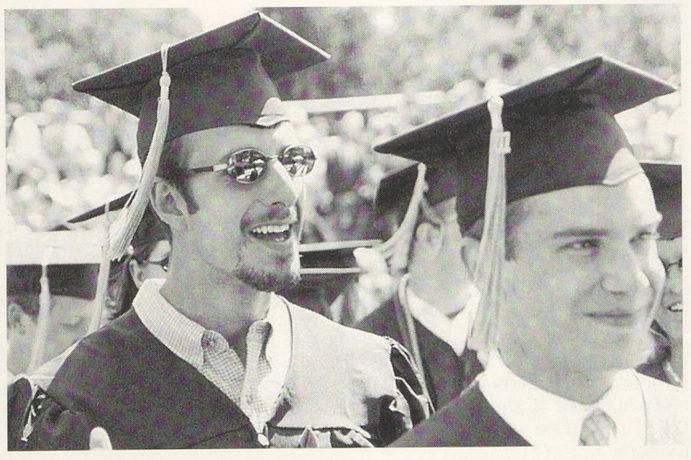
Cullen Sheehan stands in line to receive his diploma from Juniata. Sheehan graduated with a Management/Finance POE.

Nichole Booke and Joni Capelli, Bachelor of the Arts, wait for the rest of the Bachelor of the Science to be seated at the beginning of the ceremony.





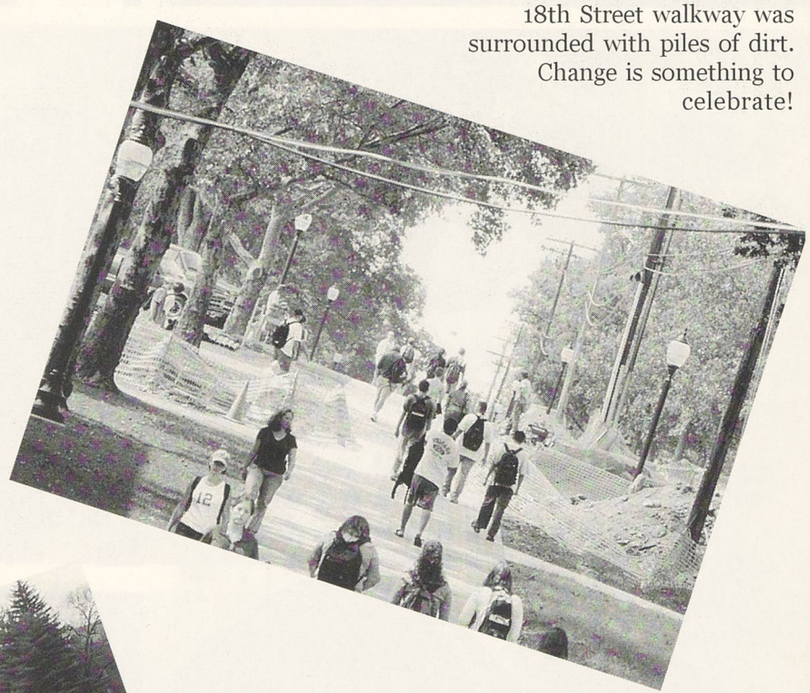


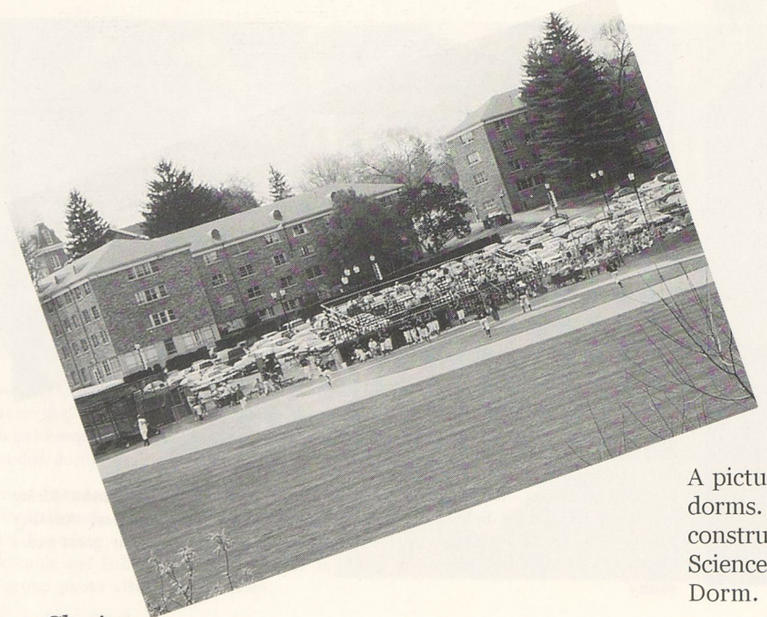
Showing all smiles, Adam Titter awaits his turn to receive his diploma. Mother Nature gave the 2001 graduates the best outdoor Graduation weather, warm and sunny.

Josh Kline shows his excitement during the Graduation celebration. Another reason to celebrate.... four great years at Juniata.

Graduation is a celebration of ending one section of life, but also a celebration of preparing for a new journey.

Everytime you turn around on Juniata's campus there is another change. This year the 18th Street walkway was surrounded with piles of dirt. Change is something to celebrate!





A picture of campus from the reservation next to East dorms. This shows the beginning stages of the construction of the new William J. von Liebig Center for Science. The new building was being placed behind South Dorm.

Election 2000

George W. Bush selects Dick Cheney, former Wyoming representative, and former secretary of defense as his vice-presidential running mate on the Republican ticket.

The 2000 presidential election was in many ways decided by not just the voters but the courts. Five weeks after election day, the US Supreme Court blocked Al Gore's request to have disputed Florida ballots recounted. George W. Bush and Dick Cheney won the election after being awarded Florida's 25 electoral votes.

Antiquated voting methods in this age of technology threw the presidential election into turmoil. Punch card ballots, and the accompanying "Votomatic" system were first created in the 1960s. Disputed ballots had chads, or paper fragments hanging from the punch card that made it difficult for voting machines to read the ballots.
